HONGKONG, JULY 23RD, 1895.

THE interesting paper by Mr. W. C. JACK of Haiphong, recently read before the Institution of Engineers and Shipbuilders of Hongkong, on Engineering and Shipbuilding in the Far East proved pretty conclusively that the relative cost of shipbuilding here and in Great Britain very nearly approximates. It is claimed by many that the home models are better, and that the work is more finished, at least in appearance. MR. JACK, however, who has had a great deal of experience, is not of this opinion. He says, speaking from that experience, "that the "Hongkong-built boats belonging to the "firm with which he is connected defy com-"parison as far as hull, engines, and boilers "are concerned; that is to say, they are "ahead of the home-built article in finish, "workmanship, and durability." There is no doubt that, in many respects, there are great advantages in getting a vessel constructed on the spot. She can be built more in accordance with local requirements, and a great many expensive alterations, almost always required in a new home-built boat, are avoided, while sundry improvements suggested by experience after the vessel is on the stocks can be carried out while under construction. Some details which no amount of suggestion will induce home builders to include would, as a matter of course, be carried out in local shipyards, and time would be saved in the delivery of the vessel and in subsequent alterations. So far as can be seen by a layman, therefore, convenience and time would be gained in building locally, but the cost would be pretty nearly the same, allowing for the almost invariably unremunerative character of the voyage out of home-built vessels. MR. JACK shows by his tables, which seem to have been carefully calculated on a sound basis, that while the cost of the iron, steel, keel, stern frames, rivets and bolts, iron castings, iron forgings, rigging and blocks, sails, brass and plumbers' work, windlass, anchors and winches, &c., is considerably greater in Hongkong, that of the carpenters' work, wood, polishing, and wages, is much less. In the cost of construction of a vessel of 1,019 tons he makes out a difference in favour of home prices of £708 9s. 9d., or 13s. 10d. per ton gross, a sum that would, as he remarks, be absorbed in the voyage out. The question then remains whether the ship could be built with equal rapidity here and so answer the requirements of Lloyd's surveyor with equal certainty, and MR. JACK strongly insists that this can be done. The proof of the pudding lies in the eating thereof, and we should like to see a few more tests at the present time. Of late years the Hongkong and Whampoa Dock Company, although possessing every facility for turning out all classes of steamers, has done little shipbuilding, except small vessels considerably below a thousand tons. Messrs. WM. FENWICK & Co., Limited, though they have turn out a good number of steamers, seldom build any of more than a hundred tons burthen. The Chinese yards are principally occupied with steam-launches of varying capacities, and rarely attempt to construct a vessel of more than sixty tons. Shipbuilding, therefore, in Hongkong, is at present principally confined to the production of steam-launches and small steamers either for the Philippines coasting or purely local trade. Mr. JACK's paper will, we trust, serve to draw attention to the fact that large steamers can be efficiently and cheaply constructed in this port, and as a consequence better employment be afforded to the docks and shipbuilding yards of the colony in the future. If the West River and other inland waters of South China should be opened shortly to foreign trade and navigation—as we all hope they will be—there seems no reason why good light draft steamboats suitable for the traffic should not be satisfactorily built here instead of losing time in sending to England for them. The boats run by the Service Subventionné des Correspondances Fluviales du Tonkin on the Red River, and which have proved eminently suitable for the work, were many of them built in this colony, and have formed the models for others constructed in Haiphong. Mr. JACK, who is the superintendent of the Company's works at that port, has designed and built several stern-wheelers for the upper reaches of the Tonkin rivers, and they are now running regularly and with great success. Only the other day a new boat to draw three feet of water with a full cargo was launched at Haiphong, for service on the upper arm of the Red River. When light she draws barely two feet, and steams ten knots an hour. The same class of boat could be turned out here, possibly at even lower cost, for navigating the upper reaches of the West and North Rivers. But we must get these waterways opened to traffic first. What, we wonder, is the British Foreign Office doing in the matter?

H.M.S. Rainbow left for Formosa yesterday.

The steamer Daphne recently took over $1,000,000 from Japan to Shanghai.

The new buildings of the French Consulate at Shanghai were inaugurated on the 14th inst.

The N. P. steamer Strathnevis left Tacoma for this port via the usual ports of call on the 18th instant.

The Changon, from Shanghai to Hankow, having broken her starboard shaft, has been towed back to Shanghai by the Tobksing.

According to the China Gazette the Shanghai Municipal Council is going to erect several refuse destructors in Hongkew and the British settlement for the disposal of street garbage.

The British steamer Irene, which ran the blockade during the war, has been transferred to the Chinese flag and is to take Chinese disbanded troops from Woosung to the Upper Yangtsze.

The Mercury has the following, relating to the new season's tea on the London market:—While the new season blackleaf, tea or Pingsuey have not met with any excited reception, still a fair number of sales are to hand, all at more or less satisfactory prices. The two head Keemun chops, Ming Gar and Sing Gar, realised 1/11½ and 1/11 respectively. A fair, but by no means a fine, Ningchow, costing about 1/3, finished 1/10. Profits run from 5 33 per cent. to perhaps an average of 12 to 15 per cent.

Vice-roy Chang, the N. C. Daily News says, has decided to disband 35,000 men out of the 65,000 raised by him for the defence of his viceroyalty. The men disbanded are mainly [illegible] The work of disbandment began on the 9th instant, when seven regiments were taken to Wuchang in the cruisers Kaichia, Hunanie, Nanshing, Paoming, Chingtung, and sloop Chiangshan. The captains of the cruisers received instructions from the Viceroy "to proceed straight to Wuchang and make no stoppage en route on pain of being denounced to the Throne."

We (China Gazette) learn that a project put forward by certain French engineers for the cutting of a canal in a northerly direction from Kajao Creek to the sea, cutting off the whole of Pheasant Point and giving access to the river from deep water at all stages of the tide, has been put forward in Peking and has received very favourable consideration from the Tsungli Yamen. The project is a very simple and economical one, the distance being only from two to three miles, through soil admirably suited for canalling. As an alternative to dredging the Woosung Bar, the idea certainly possesses many advantages, as the canal could very easily be kept deep and clear by occasional dredging.

A correspondent has courteously sent us (N. C. Daily News) news regarding the state of affairs in Szechuen up to the 2nd inst. At Kiating the missionaries were still in the yamen. There were threats of further trouble and the position was one calling for attention. At Yachou all was quiet. The officials had appealed to the people not to destroy anything now the foreigners had gone, and had asked the missionaries not to return yet. A riot was reported from Hochou on the previous day. The new Viceroy had arrived at Chêngtu, but the people were still excited and threatening trouble in the event of rioters being punished. Chungking was reported quiet, but the country around unsettled, and some parts unsafe.

The following proclamation, we learn from the N. C. Daily News, has been issued at Nanking by the Viceroy Chang:—"Missionary chapels have been established in China for a number of years and the schools and hospitals open in their connection have performed what they profess to do. In fact, as charity institutions, they are far superior to our own Chinese establishments of the same nature. If, therefore, there be any ignorant persons who should dare to collect a crowd for the purpose of creating a riot against missionary institutions, they will be instantly arrested and severely punished. This is not a mere threat, but we command all to pay earnest heed to this proclamation." The Viceroy Chang has thus made an open acknowledgment of the value of missionary work and the good done by it.

It is reported from reliable sources at Shanhaikuan, says the N. C. Daily News, that the highway between the Great Wall there and North Kinchow has, since the declaration of peace, been so badly infested by disbanded soldiers, who have joined the regular mounted bandits, that robberies and bloodshed are of almost daily occurrence, thereby causing a general suspension of trade in that part of Manchuria which was once the most prosperous trade outlet for the other side of the Great Wall. It has also been computed that the strength of the so-called "Mounted Bandits," who are really secret society men, hostile to the present dynasty, has been increased by over 8,000 men in this way, and grave apprehension is being entertained by the high military authorities at Shanhaikuan and North Kinchow in consequence.

On Sunday evening, 14th inst., four unknown men entered the house of a native money-lender living inside the native city at Shanghai. The strangers, the N. C. Daily News says, wanted to "borrow a few dollars," but as the money-lender, fortunately for himself, was absent at the time, the men were told to wait in the man's office. It so happened that a few dollars were lying on the table in the room, and these one of the visitors at once proceeded to appropriate. A male cook of the house saw the theft and immediately collared the thief, whereupon one of the band drew a sharp dagger and making a circular sweep with it not only severed the cook's head from the trunk, leaving only a shred of skin connecting them. The men then decamped unopposed, the bystanders being either rooted to the spot by astonishment at the sudden catastrophe, or too much afraid to try to oppose the desperadoes.

Cattle plague has broken out at Mr. Hall's dairy farm, Shanghai.

At the Marine Court yesterday eight boatmen were fined $3 each for anchoring in the fairway.

There were 2,028 visitors to the City Hall Museum last week, of whom 134 were Europeans.

The Shanghai Sumatra Tobacco Co. declares a dividend of 50 per cent. on the working for the past year.

The Indo-China steamer Kutsang, from Calcutta and Straits, left Singapore for this port on Saturday, the 20th inst., at 5 p.m.

The O. & O. steamer Coptic, with mails, &c., from San Francisco to the 3rd inst., via Honolulu, has arrived at Yokohama, and will leave for this port via Nagasaki this morning, the 23rd inst.

According to a Madrid telegram to the Comercio, dated 3rd inst., the export duty on rice in the Philippines is to be increased, also the import duty on petroleum. The dock to be constructed at Subic is to be a floating one.

At the general election in 1892 the number of votes polled in the Hongkong test election was 350. In the present occasion the number is only 266. The falling off is probably due not so much to a decline in the interest taken in home politics as to the fact that this year it was not sufficiently made known that a poll was to be held.

The Hon. W. C. H. Hastings, Acting Harbour Master, held an inquiry yesterday into a collision which occurred on the 19th June between the steam-launch Rising Star and a cargo-boat off Pedder's Wharf. It appeared the cox'wain of the launch had gone ashore, leaving another man, who also held a certificate, in charge. Captain Hastings found the accident was caused by the negligence of the substitute and his certificate was suspended for twelve months, while the cox'wain, for improperly leaving the launch, had his certificate suspended for one month.

Li Shing, a marina hawker, was charged at the Police Court yesterday with stealing forty dozen silk handkerchiefs, value $200, the property of Amigo Damond, on the 14th March. From the evidence it appeared that the defendant was in the habit of purchasing empty packing cases from the complainant. On the 14th March a case was standing in the shop, which defendant wished to buy, and it was emptied, and the contents placed on the counter. The complainant's coolie, however, through some misunderstanding afterwards put the contents back into the case before it was taken away by the defendant. The prisoner was remanded till Wednesday.

Chan Chap-yan, a boatman, was remanded at the Police Court yesterday, charged with cutting and wounding a young girl and an old widow with intent to do bodily harm, on the 22nd instant. The victims of the assault, which was of a very savage nature, are in hospital, severely injured, and were unable to appear in Court. They resided at Yaumati and made their living by selling small tackle to fishermen. The defendant went to their house shortly after six o'clock yesterday morning and began to look about the place. The girl, who suspected that his object was to pilfer, kept a watch on him. He seems to have lost his temper at this and made an attack upon the girl with a chopper, cutting her fearfully about the head and face. On her mother appearing he turned on her also, inflicting five wounds upon her head, and in trying to ward off the blows she had a finger chopped off. The neighbours were attracted by the noise and secured the man, whom they held until the arrival of the police.

A correspondent writes from Ichowfu to the N. C. Daily News:—It is generally taken for granted by the Press of the western world that the war just ended must be followed by a sudden revolution in Chinese thought and practice. To one fresh from a vacation at home and hoping against hope that the time of awakening may be at hand, it is a trifle disappointing to sail in a leaky house-boat up the Grand Canal into southern Shantung and see not one sight or hear one word to indicate that anything at all is acknowledged to have happened. We have trodden the miry streets of the same old Chinkiang and been cheated by the same smirking boat agent as of yore. We have been objects of curiosity to the same dirty, half-naked crowds and to the same supercilious gentlemen. We have listened at [illegible] and in the daytime been inspected by rows of ragged and decidedly nonwarlike "citizen soldiers." True, the sight of a couple of steam dredgers and a stray launch stimulated our hopes, but we reflected that these were sufficiently familiar sights on the Grand Canal five years ago. No, it must be admitted that reform is not yet in the air. But let us be patient. Even a revolution may be pardoned for moving with a certain amount of deliberation in China.

THE TRADE OF THE PORT.

We have received from the Acting Harbour Master, Hon. W. C. H. Hastings, the following interesting memo. on the trade of Hongkong during the first half of 1894, with accompanying tables:—

During the half year ending 30th June 1895, 6,451 European constructed vessels, aggregating 5,642,763 tons, carried 717,604 passengers and 3,281,280 tons; the latter made up as follows:—

Import cargo	1,797,444 tons
Export "	763,106 "
Transit "	727,981 "
Bunker coal shipped	192,749 "
Total	3,281,280 "

Compared with the corresponding period of last year this shows a decrease of 70 ships, but an increase of 71,897 tons, showing the steady increase in the size of the vessels. It must be remembered also that the Japanese flag has not been seen in the port this year. Last year it was represented by 88 ships, measuring 133,268 tons. The Chinese flag has also been absent, but most of the vessels have passed under the English and German colours. Passenger traffic shows a decrease of 52,823, due doubtless to the war and the plague at Macao.

Imports show an increase of	67,859 tons.
Exports show a decrease of	13,068
Transit shows a decrease of	95,875
Bunker coal shipped an increase of	3,104

a total decrease of 37,980 tons carried and handled. Reference to the annual report, however, shows that the effects of last year's plague were not felt till the 3rd quarter of the year, the first six months being phenomenally prosperous.

Junks in foreign trade imported 222,618 tons and exported 557,916 tons; excess of exports 335,298 tons. European constructed vessels imported in excess of exports 834,533 tons; excess of exports by junks reduces this to 499,040 tons, from which again must be subtracted 192,749 tons of bunker coal shipped exclusive of coal supplied to Her Majesty's ships and foreign men-of-war, leaving a balance consumed, manufactured, and in stock in the colony of 306,291 tons as against 317,089 tons for the corresponding half year.

Junks in local trade imported 52,636 tons, of which 50,752 tons were earth and [illegible] general and 1,701 tons of earth and stones.

THE PUNJOM MINING CO., LIMITED.

The Secretary of the Punjom Mining Co., Limited, advises the receipt of the following report for June from Mr. Blamey, the manager at the mine:—

August Shaft 200 ft. Level.—The No. 2 East crosscut has been extended a further distance of 24 ft. 6 in., making it 397 ft. 6 in. from the main North crosscut. Nothing of value was met with, however, and as it is out beyond the supposed course of Gillies' Reef work there was discontinued, and the men brought back to open up north and south on the course of the ore passed through in the early part of last month and referred to in my last report. The ore we are driving on shows both copper and iron pyrites, but up to this is not of sufficient value to mill.

Intermediate 140 ft. Level.—All the stopes here continue to give their usual quantities of ore for the mill, and are without change to notice. The new shaft will connect with this level within the next two days, when after putting in the necessary timbers for the "Plat" it will be continued down to the 200 ft. level.

110 ft. Level.—The only work going on at this point is the sinking of the new shaft, which, as just mentioned, will connect with the intermediate within the next two days. We shall now prepare for driving a crosscut east to intersect the course of Gillies' Reef at this level.

Upper Stopes.—These having become exhausted, work there has ceased. The small leader discovered in the north side of these stopes near the surface continues to yield ore of very good quality and gives promise of doing so for some little time longer.

Gillies' Reef Mill Gully Tunnel.—The north drive here has been extended 45 feet, making it 357 feet from its mouth. It continues to give ore of fair grade for the mill, but I regret to say the reef is very much disturbed in places by the intrusion of dyke matter. The mines we were sinking at the date of my last report got entirely into dyke formation and as there is water to be contended with which makes the work expensive and progress slow, it was decided to wait till it was drained by the crosscut we are about to begin at the 1.0 ft. level August shaft.

Total dirvage for month .....543' 6"
Ore mined .....725 tons.

made up as follows:—

	tons.	cwt.
August shaft	545	0
Mill gully	110	10
Upper stopes	19	10
New leader	50	0

Milling.—This was carried on during 22 days with full battery, crushing 920 tons, yielding 376 oz. 4 dwt. of smelted gold, viz., 720 tons of ore from the mine for 347 oz. 4 dwts. gold and 197 tons headings for 29 oz. You will see the quantity of ore milled is much below our average and as this is owing to the worn-out state of the old battery, the foundations of which are quite rotten, we have decided to take it down and re-erect it, using only the very best timber in both the foundations and frame. This is a pretty big job, but I am hoping it will be done without materially decreasing our monthly output of gold.

Cyanide Works.—This was carried on to the 1st inst. when a stop was made for the clean-up. The result was sent you in due course, so I need not refer further to it here. It is now running on tailings with about 5 per cent. of concentrates, and as Mr. White assures me his extractions are good and the material operated on of very fair grade, I am hoping for fairly good results this month. We shall clean up on the 3rd prox., by which time 750 tons will have been treated for the month. Of course, I need not tell you that there are many little stoppages in the work, owing partly to the men being new to it. A small battery has been erected to crush the lumps of oxidised tailings and concentrates, which is doing its work very well indeed, and as this is run off the water-wheel, the cost is trifling.

General.—We are giving due attention to all work coming under this head.

Labour.—The supply of this is without change.

Health.—This, I am pleased to say, is much better, the influenza and bronchitis having almost entirely left the camp.

Rainfall.—This has been most unusually low, the total being ¼ inch only.

SUPREME COURT.

15th July.

IN ORIGINAL JURISDICTION.

BEFORE THE HON. W. M. GOODMAN (ACTING CHIEF JUSTICE).

LI CHING AND OTHERS v. WONG YUK AND ANOTHER.

Li Ching and Mak Kwok, brought an action against Wong-yuk, 4, Tung Wa Lane, and Pan Tak-chuen, Seymour Terrace, for an injunction to restrain the defendants from using, or causing or permitting to be used, 23, West Street, as a public latrine, thereby causing a nuisance injurious to the plaintiffs; and the plaintiffs claimed $10 a day for damages and their costs of suit.

Mr. Robinson, instructed by Mr. C. Ewens, appeared for the plaintiffs, and Mr. J. J. Francis, Q.C., instructed by Mr. H. L. Dennys represented the defendants.

Mr. Robert K. Leigh, of the firm of Leigh and Orange, was the first witness called. He said he was acquainted with the premises in question. He produced plans which he had prepared and explained the construction and situation of the latrine and adjoining houses. There were three uptake shafts leading from the latrine on the first floor to a lantern in the roof of the house, through which the foul air escaped, and there were two separate shafts for the supply of fresh air. Mr. Robinson proceeded to ask witness what effect the uptake shafts would have on Nos 19 and 21, and witness was replying that he made several special visits to the premises in March last, when Mr. Francis objected to the evidence on the ground that it referred to matters subsequent to the date of the writ. The question, he said, was what nuisance was existing on the date of the writ and prior to it. The date of the writ was 9th January, 1895.

Mr. Robinson—It is an every day practice to apply for an injunction to restrain an anticipated nuisance.

His Lordship mentioned that, a nuisance existing in April, they could not recover on that through a writ issued in January.

Mak Kwok was then called and said he occupied the ground floor of 21, West Street, where latrine was opened on the 25th December, 1894. He had, without effect, complained to the landlord of the house of the offensive smells. If the wind "blew in his favour" the nuisance was unbearable.

In cross-examination by Mr. Francis, witness said when he went into the shop at No. 21 he knew that the adjoining premises were used as a latrine. Asked why he did not remove from No. 21 when he first experienced the offensiveness of the latrine, he replied that he was informed at the time that a petition had been filed and an order of the Court was expected in the matter.

Cheung Luk, who occupies the first floor of No. 21, West Street, also gave evidence as to the nuisance, and this was corroborated by several other tenants of houses near the latrine.

The plaintiffs' case was not concluded at four o'clock, and at this stage the Court adjourned till to-day.

IN APPELLATE JURISDICTION.

BEFORE THE HON. W. M. GOODMAN (ACTING CHIEF JUSTICE).

HONGKONG AND SHANGHAI BANK AND OTHERS v. HOW QUA AND OTHERS.

Mr. J. J. Francis, Q.C., instructed by Messrs. Johnson, Stokes and Master, made an ex parte application on behalf of the plaintiffs for leave to appeal to the Privy Council against the judgment given by the Court sitting in appellate jurisdiction on the 8th inst. in favour of the defendants.

Leave granted.

THE AMERICAN COMMUNITY AT SHANGHAI AND THE OUTRAGES IN SZECHUEN.

The following is the report presented at the adjourned meeting of American citizens held at Shanghai on the 15th inst. regarding the recent outrages in Szechuen. The meeting was numerously attended, and the report was unanimously adopted and ordered to be transmitted to the U.S. Minister at Peking and the State Department at Washington:—

The Committee appointed at the meeting of American citizens held at Shanghai on 1st July, to ascertain the facts in reference to the Szechuen outrages and to draft a preamble and resolutions to be submitted to a future meeting beg to report as follows:—

The Committee has had several meetings and interviews with the missionaries from Chêngtu and other places in Szechuen, and from their written and oral statements and from copies of official proclamations (all of which the Committee recommend to be published with the proceedings of this meeting) have ascertained the following facts:—

I.—From proclamations issued by the leading officials in the province of Szechuen previous to and at the time of the riots, it appears evident that they are largely responsible for these disturbances. In support of this see

1.—Accompanying copy of a proclamation issued by Li Taotai, General Manager of Foreign Affairs; Provincial Treasurer Wang; Chang Taotai, General Manager of Foreign Affairs; and Expectant Taotai Shan.

2.—The proclamation issued 29th May by Expectant Taotai Chow, Chief of Police for the two Hsiens (districts) of the capital, and

3.—The Viceroy's proclamation of the same date.

It will be seen from these proclamations that what purported to be a promulgation of the terms of the Berthémy Convention in obedience to the instructions of the Tsungli Yamen, dated the 31st of October, 1894, was in fact in direct contravention of the same proclamation (No. 1) issued by the Provincial Foreign Office, was widely posted throughout the province, and was so well understood that immediately after its promulgation it was commonly said among the people that the Viceroy intended to drive the missionaries out of Szechuen.

The proclamations (Nos. 2 and 3) issued by the Chief of Police and the Viceroy, were calculated to incite and encourage the riots rather than to suppress them.

The rioters assembled at the north-east corner of the city (see No. 1 on map) and had to go the entire length of the parade ground (see No. 2 on map) and past the soldiers' camp (see No. 3 on map) to the first point of attack, the Canadian Methodist Mission (see "A" on map). No effort was made to stop them, and when the missionaries fled to the camp for protection they were driven out and one of the ladies brutally kicked by a soldier.

There was a Roman Catholic mission only a stone's-throw from the Viceregal yamên, and yet so sure were the rioters that they would not be interfered with that this place, directly under the eye of the Viceroy, was boldly looted and demolished.

II.—Previous to the issuing of this proclamation (No. 1) the attitude of the people, in Chêngtu and other parts of the Szechuen province, towards the missionaries was uniformly and unusually friendly.

III.—For some time previous to the riots vile reports were circulated and placards inciting to riot were posted in and around the city. (See placards 1 and 2.) These the officials made no effort to suppress, although repeatedly requested to do so by the missionaries. (See statements of Canright, Peat, Kilborn, and Cady.)

IV.—At the time the riots began there were thousands of soldiers stationed in and about the city, at the command of the officials, and there were three camps, each having several hundred foreign-drilled troops within five minutes' walk of the place first attacked. (See map.)

V.—As soon as a riot was apprehended the officials were notified and help requested from at least two sources. This help was either refused or delayed until too late to be effective. (See Kilborn, Peat, and Canright.)

VI.—The destruction and looting of the property in Chêngtu extended over a period of thirty-six hours, during which time nothing like an adequate effort was made by the officials to interfere with the rioters, notwithstanding there was an interval of five hours in which there was absolute cessation of the rioting.

VII.—The few soldiers and yamen runners who were sent under pretence of suppressing the riots were seen to be actively engaged in the work of looting and destruction. The Magistrate and the Prefect visited the scene of the riot during the first day, and immediately they appeared quiet and order were restored; but as soon as they left, and before they were out of sight, the rioting was renewed with increased fury. (See Hartwell.)

VIII.—At daylight on the second day of the riots, some of the missionaries went to the yamen of the Huayangtsien for protection, and they were sent away with the statement that the official was asleep. The underlings assured them that there was no danger on their street, and adequate protection was promised. This promise, however, was never fulfilled. (See Canright.)

IX.—The telegraph operator at Chêngtu was forbidden by the Viceroy to transmit messages for the missionaries, while at the same time he (the Viceroy) was causing telegrams to be sent to all the offices in the West, stating that a mutilated child had been found at a foreign place, as a result of which looting and burning went on as by a concerted plan. Telegrams from the missionaries were also refused at the Chungking office on the plea that the Viceroy would not permit anyone to send telegrams which made reference to the riots. As a result of the Viceroy's obstruction of the telegraph lines to Chêngtu (of which there are three) it was ten days before the fate of the missionaries was known at Shanghai. (See Cady and Lewis.)

X.—No adequate measures were taken to restore order, during or after the riots, until imperative instructions came from Peking; upon which quiet was restored, the Magistrates having the assurance that such action would be approved.

XI.—As a result of the riots in Chêngtu and the delay in promulgating the instructions from Peking, the disturbances rapidly spread until all the missions in the province became more or less involved.

Resolutions.

Whereas, the above facts clearly indicate that the riots in Szechuen, which swept away in a few days the fruit of years of toil and sacrifice, and which have resulted in the wanton destruction of much valuable property belonging to American citizens, rendering homeless and destitute no less than twenty-four adult American missionaries, and subjecting to violence and insult delicate women and helpless children, were officially inspired and encouraged, and

Whereas, we believe that unless prompt and adequate measures are taken by our government to bring to punishment the guilty parties the safety of all American interests in China will be imperilled, and

Whereas, we find that these violent demonstrations were directed not so much against missionaries as such, but as a part of a widespread anti-foreign propaganda, and

Whereas, we believe that unless the Government of the United States must certainly suffer from any unsatisfactory settlement of these troubles, therefore,

Resolved, 2nd,—That in our opinion a money indemnity alone is utterly insufficient to meet the demands of this case, and that we insist upon the prompt and adequate punishment of the guilty parties, no matter what their rank or station may be.

Resolved, 3rd—That we ask our Government to make provision for the immediate return of the American missionaries to their stations in the Szechuen province, and that their right to reside and prosecute their work in the interior of China be published throughout the provinces of the Central Government.

TERRIBLE OUTRAGE ON DR. SHEFFIELD, NEAR PEKING.

Tientsin, 11th July.

I am sorry to have to tell you of another missionary outrage, this time near Peking, and that against one of the best known and oldest missionaries of Tung-chow.

It appears that the Rev. Dr. Sheffield, of the American Board of Foreign Missions, Tung-chow, had been left alone in that city, whilst the other missionaries were away to the hills for their summer vacation. On Sunday evening, whilst the Doctor was going to the chapel from his house or returning home after holding a meeting, he was attacked by two brothers, who stabbed him in the back and chopped him with an axe, inflicting on him no less than seven wounds, and left him lying in the road for dead. Many Chinese appear to have seen the assault, or at any rate to have passed by afterwards, and made sport of the unfortunate gentleman, instead of rendering him the assistance that he needed to save his life. Some time after the occurrence another brother of the assassins came along with a few men, picked up the wounded Doctor, and carried him to his house, where his native helpers rendered him all the assistance in their power. The following day Miss Bosthwick, a member of the same mission, arrived there in company with Mrs. Denby and Consul Read on their cordingly. For instance, a certain "A 1" firm wished to get samples of California wines. It ordered forty-five cases shipped to the H. and S. B. Company (Limited), with instructions to draw, and order the bank to turn over goods upon payment of drafts. The order was sent to a large firm, who seem most desirous of doing business here. The business was done through a sub-consular official, who agreed to look after the California firm's interest in the matter. The California firm did not ship the goods, but offered to do so if a certified cheque were sent it. The Bangkok dealer would have been deprived of the use of this money for some five months before he received the goods. No European dealers ask this.

Another house here has been handling some American canned goods which it purchased from a New York firm. This house has given the New York firm instructions to draw on London agents when the order was received, and has thus paid for the goods some months before receiving the same. This firm has now stopped doing business with the New York firm, and now buys American goods in London.

Buyers here also find great advantage in dealing with English exporters, as firms of good standing get consignments of many classes of goods. It is also of great advantage to merchants in Bangkok to have considerable latitude in time of payments, as this makes it possible for them to send money when exchange is rather favourable.

To sum up the whole matter, it seems that large quantities of food products are consumed in Siam of kinds which are produced in the United States, but it appears that only a small proportion of American products find their way to the Siamese markets; that those which do come pass through the hands of English exporters; that Americans can sell goods at prices which make it possible for the United States to do business in Siam; that the reason that the United States does not do business directly with Siam is because the American dealers do not know enough about merchants in Siam, their financial standing, etc., to deal with them on the terms that they would offer fellow American dealers. Hence, the first step which must be taken by our exporters is to make arrangements whereby the standing of merchants in Siam can be investigated, as it is by Englishmen. When Americans can do this, they can deal with Siam and know exactly what they are doing; until then they can only work in the dark.

Of course, the American export trade is, in many instances, handicapped by freight rates, but, not withstanding this, business in food products can be done with Siam if Bangkok is dealt with on the same terms that England gives her.

Another thing should be remembered by our merchants. They are not the only persons who have products to sell. If they ever do business here they will have to push it. Buyers here will not run after them. In order to ascertain the standing of merchants in Siam, I would suggest that they apply to American agents of banks here, as English traders learn from the London offices. There are two large banking institutions here and they have offices in San Francisco, Chicago, and New York. With proper packing, competitive rates, good qualities, and the same methods that build up trade at home, American exporters would not labour in vain.

WUCHANG.

10th July.

Changes amongst the officials are being made here, some of which are by no means welcomed by the foreign residents in this city. The district magistrate is leaving and is to be succeeded by the one from Mach'eng. This man attained unenviable notoriety in the Sungpu troubles and one wonders whether this is another illustration of the fact that officials who have shown themselves distinctly anti-foreign are sure of advancement.

Proclamations allowing French subjects to purchase land without advising the officials have been posted here. Another proclamation emanating from the Tsungli Yamen has also been posted. The people are strictly forbidden to injure any foreign property, and if any damage is done, the local officials will be required to make good the loss, and to defray any expenses that may be caused thereby. Numbers of people crowd round these placards whilst one who is learned reads and interprets. The action of the Governor in thus helping the foreigner is freely criticised.

Great anxiety has been felt for some time in this district on account of the crops, which have been seriously damaged by the long drought. Proclamations were issued forbidding anything to be killed so long as the drought continued, thus hoping to secure the favour of the gods. We have, however, been relieved to-day by a copious shower of rain and we trust it may continue for some time.—N. C. Daily News correspondent.

The height of mean sea-level has been determined, from the tidal observations of 1887 and 1889, as 5.51 feet above zero of the tide-gauge at the Kowloon Tidal Observatory; and the Low-water Ordinary Spring-Tides, to which datum the heights in these Tables are referred, as 3.57 feet above zero.

The heights in the Tables marked with a minus sign (−) are below Low-water Ordinary Spring-Tides, and should be abstracted from the constant given above.

SANTAL-MIDY

These Capsules are used in the London and Paris Hospitals in place of Copaiba Cubebs, and astringent injections; they relieve the patient without causing any of the well known inconveniences of these old remedies in 48 hours.

Dr. POSNER says: "The purity of Oil Santal is of the greatest importance; the best form we have used is the French preparation known as Santal-Midy sold in small capsules easy to swallow and readily supported by the stomach.—Deutsche Medicinal Zeitung, July 1886."

SANTAL-MIDY is sold in bottles of 40 spherical capsules, each of which contains 5 drops of the pure amber-coloured Sandal-wood oil distilled by Midy's process.

All Capsules bear the name "Midy" printed in black letters.

NOW READY.

THE CHRONICLE AND DIRECTORY FOR CHINA, JAPAN, STRAITS, &c. &c. FOR 1895,

With which is incorporated THE CHINA DIRECTORY.

This is the THIRTY-THIRD ANNUAL ISSUE, and will be found, as usual, to show an advance on preceding years both in fulness and accuracy of information.

The DIRECTORY covers the whole of the ports and cities of the Far East, from Penang to Vladivostock, in which Europeans reside.

Not only is the Directory as full and complete in each case as it can be made, but each Colony, Port, or Settlement is prefaced by a DESCRIPTION, carefully revised each year, most of which will serve as accurate GUIDES for the Tourist, giving every detail in connection with the places, their History, Topography, &c., &c.

The Information afforded in these Descriptions alone would suffice to fill an ordinary volume, consisting of over NINETY highly interesting articles, packed with facts concisely set out, and containing statistics of the TRADE of each Country and Port.

The work contains Directories and Descriptions of
